Sweet Potato & Black Bean Chili

- Prep Time: 20 minutes
- Total Time: 45 minutes
- Serves: 4

Source: https://www.eatwell101.com/sweet-potato-black-bean-vegetarian-chili

Packed with fiber from sweet potatoes and black beans, this quick and hearty vegetarian chili is the perfect meal for a busy weeknight. Serve it with your favorite tortilla chips for extra fun. Leftovers, store them stove down the road!

Ingredients

- 1 tablespoon plus 2 teaspoons extra-virgin olive oil
- 1 medium large sweet potato, peeled and diced
- 1 large onion, diced
- 4 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tablespoon chili powder
- 4 teaspoons ground cumin
- 1 teaspoon dried oregano
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2½ cups water
- 1 (15-ounce) can black beans, rinsed
- 1 (14-ounce) can diced tomatoes
- ½ cup frozen corn
- ¼ cup chopped fresh cilantro
- 2 tablespoons lime juice
- 1 cup fresh salsa
- Chopped fresh cilantro and sliced scallions, for garnish

Instructions

1. Heat oil in a Dutch oven over medium-high heat.
2. Add sweet potato and cook, stirring occasionally, until just to about 4 minutes.
3. Stir in garlic, chili powder, cumin, oregano, and salt; cook, stirring for 30 seconds until fragrant.
4. Add water, beans, tomatoes, and corn. Increase heat to high and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and cook for 10-12 minutes until the sweet potato is tender.
5. Remove from heat and stir in cilantro and lime juice. Increase the heat to high, and bring to a boil. Cook, stirring occasionally, until thickened, about 2 minutes.
6. Remove the heat and let it simmer for about 5 minutes until the mixture thickens.
7. Remove from heat and stir in salsa before serving.

Welcome to the November Edition of our Corporate Wellness Newsletter!

The month of November is dedicated to diabetes awareness and prevention. We will be sharing information and tips on this journey by sharing information you can use to keep improving your health.

It is very important for any person, regardless of age or gender, to be aware of the symptoms of diabetes. Being aware of the symptoms can help you to proactively work to be by to be screened for diabetes. Also think about down the road!

Little things - like simply staying active on a regular basis - can make a big difference in your health. Did you know that walking for 30 minutes a day can help you decrease weight, which will help to lower the risk of diabetes.

Here are some tips and guidelines that you can try to apply to your daily life:

- Lose excess weight. Losing weight reduces the risk of diabetes. People who participated in a large study reduced their risk of developing diabetes by 58% through diet and exercise. Those who were 60 years and older reduced their risk by 71%. For instance, if someone weighs 200 pounds, losing 10 to 14 pounds can help prevent or delay diabetes. Even a modest weight loss and get preparation of the disease. The more weight you lose, the greater the benefits.

- Limit total fats. Paying special attention to how fats, such as dining at restaurants, can help you to reduce your risk. Choose foods that are low in fat. Also, cook at home and try to limit fat intake.

- Eat healthy fats. Fatty foods are high in calories and should be consumed in moderation. To lose weight and help control weight, your diet should include a variety of foods with unsaturated fats, which are sometimes called "good fats." Unsaturated fats can be found in foods such as nuts, seeds, and plant-based fats, and avocados can actually help reduce your risk of diabetes. Saturated and trans fats, such as butter, margarine, and some baked goods, should be limited.

All these tips can be put into practice little by little, and you will see a positive change in your health. Remember, it is important to be consistent with these tips. And to avoid and also remind you of the importance of knowing!

Get Moving Physical Activity

Regular physical activity has many benefits. Exercise can help you:

- Lose weight
- Control blood glucose level
- Increase your insulin activity, which helps keep your blood glucose in a normal range
- Improve your circulation, prevent osteoporosis and benefits. But when talking about diabetes prevention, exercise is one of the most helpful things you can do. Regular physical activity can help you:

When it comes to physical activity and exercise, consider different ways to get the most out of it and fit it into your busy lifestyle as you like. Here are some ideas and suggestions to consider:

- Aerobic exercise. Aim for 30 minutes or more on most days of moderate to vigorous exercise, such as brisk walking, swimming, cycling, or running, for a total of at least 150 minutes per week.

- Resistance exercise. Resistance exercise 2 times 2 to 3 times per week. Examples strength, balance, and the ability to maintain an active lifestyle. Resistance training can include weightlifting, yoga, and calisthenics.

Remember! Always consult with a healthcare professional before starting any new exercise program.

We hope you find these tips and resources helpful in maintaining a healthy lifestyle for themselves! Stay tuned for more wellness updates in our next edition!

Tips to Prevent Holiday Stress and Depression

The holidays can often be a time to experience stress. And it can be a very stressful time for many people. Here are some tips to help you to avoid stress and to help prevent the stress in several times for the first place, and some of these tips can help you to avoid stress and depression during the holiday season.

- Watch out! Do not overlook or overlook stress and unmanageable pressure. Be aware of the signs of stress and depression. Some of the signs of stress can be easy to talk to a doctor or a friend or a counselor.
- Be realistic! The holidays don't have to be perfect or the same every year. As families change or grow, the traditions and practices do as well. Choose the traditions that are most important to you and your family, and let go of the rest.
- Plan ahead! Don't wait until the last minute to shop, cook, and prepare. Plan ahead and make lists. Shop early and avoid the crowds.
- Stick to a budget! Before you do your gift and food shopping, decide how much money you can afford to spend. Then stick to your budget. Try to buy inexpensive gifts or make homemade gifts.

Take time this month to focus on managing stress and negativity "me" time into your schedule for holiday season.

Wellness Tip of the Month: Take a Breather

Take a few minutes to relax and enjoy the holiday season. Spending just 10 minutes alone, without distractions, may help you relieve stress and feel more energized. Find a quiet place, sit comfortably, and focus on breathing and relaxing your mind.

If you, or family members, or team members are struggling with feelings or emotions that interfere with engaging in work, school, or relationships, please reach out to your healthcare provider or mental health professional.
